

On Premises Solutions

Our solutions provide the very best resiliency for customers who want to deploy their own local hardware or virtual systems and now also have the added benefit of cloud-oriented features like keevio, our web based phone you can use anywhere.

Exceptionally low cost of ownership

Our solutions deliver an early return on investment due to the tangible and intangible benefits of collaborative working, combined with a low total cost of ownership.

Exceptional customer service

Whether you simply care about delivering fantastic service across your business or operate a contact centre, IPCortex helps you to create a consistently excellent customer service experience. Tools like CRM Connect and Keevio make customer service a defining element of your brand.

Minimal management

Expect simplicity from start to finish. Our solutions require minimal management and are very easy to use, either as a stand alone systems or integrated with existing applications and processes.

Delivered to suit you

Whether you are simply looking for a phone system or would like to integrate communications with your core systems and business processes, we can help.

Resilience

We provide rock solid solutions as standard, with high availability as an option.

Joined up business

Our systems make it easy to communicate with and share information and ideas with colleagues, one to one or in groups.