

Rebuilding your website:

Not only do we make websites from scratch, but we can rebuild your pre-existing websites.

You may feel that your website(s) are outdated, boring, don't function very well or simply don't work for you anymore.

This is where we come in – by telling us what your site lacks and what you would change, we can compare our creative expertise with your vision to create the one true site you have always wanted.

We can only make what you ask for – you must know what you are looking to get out from us, you can fill in the 'Build-a-Website' quote form back on the website, and tell us what you are looking to have made – we will get back to you for extra information we need you to provide, these may be things such as:

- What your company does
- Do you prefer specific hosting? E.g.: Do you have a domain already? Would you like accessible online hosting, or would you like us to host your site?
- Website type/what you want to accomplish
- Website name and tagline
- Do you have branding already that you want the style to follow/include?
- Rough idea of Amount of pages
- Page titles
- Specific features of the site
- References/styles you'd like to follow and why?
- A colour palette/theme you'd like to follow and why?
- What would your consumers achieve by visiting your site?

After you have told us what you are looking for, we will get back to you with prices, a time schedule and other important information
